Planners comments - Rob McKenna

This area does have some very interesting features to plan around, but is marred by having to use crossing points. There is a wealth of detail in the spoil heap areas that just cannot be shown at the current map scale. There was a comment on one of the controls used on the Brown and Blue courses - a small depression east of Ridsdale. Both myself and Dave feel that the map is correct in this area and that the control was in the right place, but before the next event this area will be double checked.

My thanks to Dave Brook for agreeing to control this event at short notice. His advice and comments were invaluable to the final structure of the courses and I hope that the outcome proved a suitable challenge for you all.

Acknowledgements:

NN are grateful to the following people for their help and for kindly allowing us to use the area.
