Organiser's comments - Rob McKenna

What a glorious day - most competitors appeared to enjoy their runs, despite the tough conditions underfoot. Brambles are beginning to take a hold in the wood and the heather is in need of a trim on the fell. A clash of dates with a Borderliner fixture has obviously affected attendance on what may be the last occasion to run in Black Banks - the wood has been sold to a private owner and looks set to be cleared. Many thanks to the small band of club helpers that made this event possible.
