Organisers comments – Larry Pratt

I took over the organisation of this event after most of the preparations had been completed by Elizabeth and Noel Arrowsmith – thanks for the comprehensive instructions.

Congratulations to all the competitors for taking part so cheerfully in bitterly cold conditions, and apologies to those whose controls were misappropriated by the general public who also have access to the area. Many thanks to all club members who assisted on the day with admirable expertise. It is very impressive to an inexperienced orienteer like myself to see how others take on a responsibility, get on with it without any fuss and thereby ensure a successful event.

Results...We have given the benefit of doubt with gaps due to controls that were removed. I hope we have been fair with disqualifications...if not please let us know.

Planner – Alex Whyte

Controllers comments – Patrick Aynsley-Smyth (NN)

Alex's courses were favourably received judging by the comments of finishers rushing to the warmth. It was a pity that both finish and car park were so exposed.

Alex produced some testing route choices in an area which is not very technical. The main problem on longer courses was the number of additional tracks produced by bikes. I am sorry that so many controls were 'removed' especially from the yellow course, where times show that many people spent time hunting for missing controls. I hope this did not spoil your run.
