Organiser's comments - Maurice Swales.

Thank you all for turning out, the attendance was about 40% above my estimate. Kellas is still very popular, I only hope that it is not decimated in the future.

My apologies for the confusion over the 'O' signs from the south. I could not hang a sign at the cross roads because the road sign had been damaged in an accident. Thank you for parking sensibly. Sincere thanks to all the helpers for assisting in running the event, especially the injured planner and controller, whose efficiency made my task fairly straightforward.

Planner's comments - John Maguire.

Kellas is probably the most enjoyably runable forest in the North East though there has to be some doubt that it will be available much longer. The tree felling in the East and South East, has already restricted planning choices and the activity in the area between the event start and finish, has started to pile up brashings on the forest floor and chew up the rides. However, there is still enough left to give some excellent areas and the courses were designed to stay in these.

The lengths seemed about right and people appeared to be satisfied with their day.

The map is now 7 years old and beginning to show its age somewhat, not reflecting all the ditches or some vegetation changes where rhododendrons and self-seeding trees have flourished in the open areas. There wasn't enough change to confuse the accurate orienteer. My thanks to Rob, who's keen and meticulous eye spotted all the traps I inadvertently prepared for him.

Controller's comments - Rob McKenna.

Recent forestry work rather restricted the planning process, but on the whole John's courses were just about right and seemed to be well received. I think the glorious weather and the general runability of Kellas made it an enjoyable day for all that took part.

The area requires a particular technique to orienteer safely - good compass work and pacing. Due to the openness of the wood, some of the rides are not as distinct as when first mapped - this was a concern on the 'easier' junior courses. Additional, unmapped ditches around controls 163, 166 and the proliferation of thickets at control 178 combined to make the longer courses more difficult.

Apologies for one slight oversight regarding the marking of the finish on the first master maps on the brown course - for those that retire. This is not covered by BOF guidelines, but would seem to be a good idea. Due to a temporary glitch with the finish computer, some provisional times posted on the day may have been wrong, but have been corrected using the manual back-up.
