Organisers comments – Peter Redhead

Thank you for all coming to our yearly 'loose the Christmas flab' event. Chopwell proves ideal for an hour long score event offering a full tour of the wood to the 'supermen', but also easy navigation for beginners, so no one gets too lost as shown by no negative scores on the day. Unusually for Chopwell, all the controls remained in position throughout the event – reports that some controls were missing, I think, due to competitors not getting close enough to the control site – from a distance thinking that the grey back of the control marker was simply an empty control bag. Unfortunately, Chopwell's history of control vandalism may have led them to expect some missing controls. It was great to see so many new faces on such a cold day, seeing the enjoyment that everyone had made my day, even though I missed half of 'The Great Escape' collecting the controls in!
Good orienteering in 1986 – see you next Boxing Day?
