Organiser and Controller's comments - the Rose Family

The results are sorted in point value order and further sorted in elapsed time order when points are equal.

The finishing system proved a winner this year and I shall fine tune it for the 1996 event. Thank you Maurice for your assistance in making it a success.

The day went well considering the worry of having to cancel as a result of the previous two days of poor weather. The entry figures were reduced this year as can be seen when comparing with the previous year's results (-30 for 60 mins event). I feel that the media services gave us no help whatsoever when they all painted a far from accurate picture of local weather conditions, which were in fact not too bad. Anyone with any influence in this direction could pass on my displeasure.

The spread and location of the control sites were carefully chosen with no special points loading or groupings being made. It was a straightforward score event with the clear possibility of visiting all control sites in the hour (on a good day).

My congratulations to the 60 minute winner - John Emeleus,

 controls: 3-7,9-21 in 59 minutes
 Second, Patrick Aynsley-Smyth,
 controls: 1,2,4-7,9-16,18-21 in 59 minutes
 Third, Rob McKenna,
 controls: 1,2,4-10,12-19,21 in 59 minutes

45 minute winner - Duncan Archer,
 controls: 2,6,12-16,18,21 in 44 minutes
 Second, David Bennett,
 controls: 1,2,5,7-12,20 in 44 minutes

Third, Alan Morgan,
 controls: 7,8,12,13,18,19,21 in 44 minutes

Planner's comments - George Rose

For a course planned 4 months ago it needed few changes to be made when we walked around the course 3 days before Boxing day. The only changes needed were because of slopes being slippery and dangerous. Oh yes, and because of waist high brambles.

I think the course was just about correct although nobody actually completed it in the time (the winner only being 15 points short). I think that some controls were in picturesque sites and some were in holes in the ground.

Chopwell Wood itself is full of interesting features for control sites, so all I can say is wait till next year!!
